I read a month's devotionals in a day and so finish the book in 12 days. Just love them - the stories, the teaching, etc I thoroughly recommend all Joni's devotional books. This one is definitely one of my favourite devotionals. God has truly given Joni "the tongue of the wise". I love how she constantly exhorts you not only to be a hearer but a doer. I ended up buying all of Joni's devotionals when a very annoyingly loud garage set up business by our block of flats. I felt myself "suffering" and thought who would understand me...? Joni!! Got all of her devotional books and been so blessed by them! So like - thank God for that awfully noisy garage - it spurred me to order Joni's books and be wonderfully blessed by them!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I recommend her booksBy barb in vaJoni's devotionals are challenging and bring new perspective to familiar passages. I recommend her books.One advantage of More Precious than Silver over Diamonds in the Dust is the scripture passage index at the back of the book linked to dates. Very helpful for relocating a tidbit of wisdom that was read earlier.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The Best Devotional I have ever read.By Brian KnutsonI have purchased 6 copies in the past to give to friends and others in need. I gave my personal, well worn, bent pages, and annotations copy to someone having a distressed pregnancy. So my wife and I needed a new copy. In my opinion, this is the best and most inspired of her devotionals.

.com Joni Eareckson Tada, author of the bestselling Diamonds in the Dust, turns her attention from precious rock to precious metal in More Precious Than Silver, a book of 366 devotional readings. Tada cites Psalm 12:6 as the reason she prefers silver to the more popular gold: "The words of the Lord are flawless, like silver refined in a furnace...purified seven times." Tada believes that true treasure is not found in the golden glitter of outward appearances, but in the heart of a person who has been in assiduous contact with "the silver of God's Word." Most people prefer things golden, says Joni Eareckson Tada. But purity and silver go together best when it comes to describing Gods Word. Psalm 12:6 says, The words of the Lord are flawless, like silver refined in a furnace . . . purified seven times. And this refined silver of Gods Word has the ability, when applied by faith, to cleanse the reader of his or her sin. In Gods eyes, the real treasure lies not in the golden glitter of outward appearance, but in a heart thats been purified through constant contact with the silver of his Word. In the tradition of Jonis best-selling devotional, Diamonds in the Dust, comes More Precious than Silver.
