From Rowman Littlefield International : Narratives of Globalization: Reflections on the Global Condition before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Narratives of Globalization: Reflections on the Global Condition:

The collection brings together established and emerging scholars from the School of Global, Urban and Social Studies at Rmit University to reflect on the lived-experience of globalization. It uses a narrative approach to explore how key concepts in the field of globalization studies relate to the experience of everyday life.
