The World to Come...?By A CustomerThis book is an indepth look at the future of the World System, specifically the interaction between NGOs (non-governmental organizations) and the UN (United Nations). The book is divided into several sections including Theoretical Framework, NGOs in Action, Cross Cutting Themes and Processes and a Conclusion. Within each section, there are essays by various academicians. Included in the book is an interesting Forward by Boutros Boutros Ghali. This book provides an extensive look at the subject and is a must-buy for scholars and the very interested....otherwise-dont waste your money.

An exploration of the role of non-governmental organisations (NGOs) in the international arena, this work examines the full range of NGO relationships and actions. It concludes with a proposal for an alternative division of responsibility and labour between governmental and non-governmental actors.
