I bought this for a friend who was in the Tiger Band to use as a coffee table book. I flipped through it, and it has pictures from even when he was in Tiger Band, so he freaked out a bit and started to try to find himself. Ultimately, I don't think he did, but it was fun to see him start the "where's waldo" type of search. I do kinda hope he does find himself int he pics. The pictures are also very nice, and it is a very colorful table book for anyone into LSU Tigerband or LSU history. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. ... former member of The Golden Band -- he absolutely loved it! Well over a century has passed since two cadets of the Ole War Skule decided to create a brass band for their university, beginning a tradition that continues to the present day. World renowned for its commitment to excellence,

LSU's Golden Band from Tigerland celebrates the sports endeavors of the school teams, creates pride in school traditions, and entertains millions of fans every year. This beautifully illustrated history of LSU's beloved marching band moves from its military inspiration through the directorships of Castro Carazo, William F. Swor, and Frank B. Wickes to the first female drum major, Kristie Smith, in 1999. Tom Contin and Faye Phillips highlight the band's recent triumphs as well, including the Sudler Trophy awarded by the John Philip Sousa Foundation, induction into the Louisiana Music Hall of Fame, and traveling abroad to march in Hong Kong's Chinese New Year celebration and Dublin's St. Patrick's Day Parade. The excitement of the Pregame Salute, the triumphant spirit of the halftime show, and the hard work that goes into the performances are all captured here in 150 spectacular photographs. Above all, The Golden Band from Tigerland serves as an enduring tribute to the generations of LSU students whose talent and energy transformed a small brass group into an acclaimed marching band.
